

Kinetic Dog Food becomes Quail and Upland Game Alliance Sponsor

National Sponsorship to support QUGA mission of upland habitat conservation

CINCINNATI, OH, UNITED STATES, May 24, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- 3-Amigos Nutrition Group, LLC, the makers of the Kinetic Performance Dog Food line, today announced a new sponsorship agreement with the Quail and Upland Game Alliance (QUGA). Effective immediately, Kinetic, a line of premium foods for active, working and sporting dogs, becomes a National Sponsor and the Official Dog Food of the QUGA.

"The QUGA is the fastest growing outdoor organization and is quickly being recognized for the quality of benefit to the outdoors," said Jerry Johnson, QUGA Wildlife Management Director. "We believe in enlisting partners who can help us grow and support our mission and we view the people at Kinetic as the kind of partners who will stay committed to the outdoors."

"We've had the opportunity to work, hunt and socialize with a number of the people at the QUGA and couldn't be happier with the partnership," added John Howard, Managing Principal for 3-Amigos. "They're a great organization and their focus on habitat conservation, youth programs and upland hunting align perfectly with both our personal and company goals."

A non-profit 501(c)3 organization, the Quail and Upland Game Alliance was formed on February 24th, 2013 to promote the establishment, restoration and maintenance of quail and upland game habitat. With the help of members, landowners and government grants, the QUGA makes full use of manpower, funds, materials, equipment and natural resources for optimal results. About Kinetic Performance Dog Food

Kinetic performance dog food products feature a full line of performance dog foods specifically developed to meet the dietary requirements of highly active working, sporting and competition dogs. Made without corn, wheat or soy, each of the four Kinetic formulas is created to meet the elevated requirements of extremely active dogs for energy, endurance, recovery and digestive health. In addition, all products in the Kinetic line are made with a common ingredient profile to enable stress-free transitions from one formula to another during periods requiring higher or lower caloric intake.
