

Is Romance Dead in the Age of #metoo? Social Underground Writer Ralph Sutton Pens New Dating Column for Valentines Day

A Heterosexual Single Man's Guide to the Do's and Don'ts in the Post #metoo Universe

NEW YORK, NY, USA, February 14, 2018 /EINPresswire.com/ -- On this Valentine's Day, radio personality and columnist Ralph Sutton explores modern love in a brand new Social Underground piece, A Heterosexual Single Man's Guide to the Do's and Don'ts in the Post #metoo Universe, and can be read here <https://socialunderground.com/2018/02/heterosexual-single-mans-guide-dos-donts-post-metoo-universe/>.

"For a while now – I have been writing articles on dating for Social Underground.com, and as always – I am here to be your Sherpa in the do's and don'ts of today's man. What can you say or do without fear of public humiliation, or a twitter shit storm of hate to come careening towards you for a statement that might have been just considered groan-worthy way, way back in 2016," writes Sutton. "So, I am going to spend some time guiding you through the various stages of a potentially new relationship – from the initial flirting stage, to your first date, your relationship, sex and the inevitable breakup. I hope this unofficial guide helps you in these tender times."

From flirting to first dates and second dates to sex, to break ups, Sutton, an infamous, confirmed bachelor, teaches men how to navigate their way through romance at a time when defenses are up, and what they can learn from the public celebrity scandals that have forever changed the way men and women interact with each other.

"While on this soapbox, I also feel that the seemingly overwhelming amount of #metoo's are also helpful for a less obvious reason," says Sutton. "Sure the Harvey Wienstein's of the world will get a lot of press, but Johnny who manages a coffee shop in Sioux Falls, SD has been getting away with abhorrent conduct for years, but with the onslaught of #metoo's maybe he will think twice... and FYI I don't know if there is a lecherous Johnny who runs a coffee shop in Sioux Falls, but if there is and he is reading this – I just blew his damn mind."
