/EINPresswire.com/ Seattle | Bellevue Facial Plastic Surgeon Dr. Philip Young has discovered a new and remarkable approach to treating resistant Acne Scars. The Award-Winning Beauty Theorist has developed a one-step multilayered method to improve Acne Scarring. You can now get real results!

Did you know that approximately 20% of adult Americans have active Acne. Of those, about 20 million have Acne severe enough to cause scarring. If you are one of these people with Acne Scarring, getting real and major improvements in your scars can be a reality for you. Through years of experience with Acne Scar Treatment, Award Winning Beauty Theorist and Facial Plastic Surgeon Dr. Philip Young has developed an innovative technique that can reconstruct your Acne Scars coined:

“The Acne Scar Vitalizer Treatment”. (Call us at 425-990-3223 [FACE] to schedule a consultation with us.)

In the past, Acne Scarring has always been a very resistant medical condition to treat. Patients would go through multiple treatments, multiple times. Despite all of these procedures and attempts, patients would often get very little to no results. Because of this, Acne scarring has been frustrating for patients, their loved ones, and their doctors. As a Facial Plastic Surgeon, Dr. Young has experienced some of these same clinical challenges but was determined to find better solutions. Through 16 years of higher education, and 12 years of surgically treating scars from Acne, Dr. Young believes that one of the most important elements of Acne Scarring is its involvement of multiple layers of the skin. Previous treatments by doctors often concentrated on treating one layer at a time. Through years of constant application of different methods and out of the box thinking, Dr. Young has developed a unique, multilayered technique that places the Acne Scars in a totally new environment that essentially reconstructs the Acne Marks with one procedure called “The Acne Scar Vitalizer Treatment”. Dr. Young, his Staff, and patients have seen remarkable results from this new and improved technique. After the procedure, your Acne Scars will transform right before your eyes!

The Acne Scar Vitalizer Treatment is a safe, minimally invasive, outpatient procedure that requires no facial incisions and no general anesthesia.
