iSkin, a premium brand of fashion and technology lifestyle accessories, today announced its new exo rugged protective case for the Samsung Galaxy S4 is available for pre-order online.

The iSkin commitment to breakthrough design and protection is exemplified by the exo's unique rib structure and wrap-around design that fortifies the delicate Galaxy S4 against shock and impact.

Aesthetically, the exo impresses with glossy, matte and finely brushed surface textures for a premium and sophisticated look – a first for a case offering high durability and protection.

The exo also gives extra screen edge, volume and power button protection as well as providing a confident grip on the new S4 smartphone.

In celebration of its new release, iSkin is offering its next generation screen protection product, the ProTouch TITAN High-Impact Screen Shield for the Galaxy S4, free to the first 500 exo pre-order purchases. The ProTouch TITAN Screen Shield has a retail value of $25 USD and is provided free of charge with each pre-order.

The iSkin exo arrives in three distinct colour options (Onyx Black, Vixen Pink and Magnum Blue) and retails for $29.99 USD at <http://www.iskin.com/samsung/galaxy/exo/>
