

Re-Grip Unveils Patented Product Designed To Help Everyone 'Get a Grip'

NEW PRODUCT OFFERS GRIP SOLUTION FOR HOME, GARDEN TOOLS, AND MORE

LAKE ELSINORE, CA, USA, September 17, 2013

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Quality home and garden tools are only as good as their grips: When a grip goes, a tool becomes useless. Now, a new patented product allows consumers to revive the grips of lawn and garden tools, sporting equipment, automotive, and more, making them more comfortable, durable, and ergonomic.

Re-Grip is an affordable, simple-to-install, non-slip gripping product that provides comfort and safety to almost anything with a handle. Its OSHA-compliant and ergonomically designed to reduce muscle fatigue while helping to prevent blisters and injury. It is UV resistant, so it won't degrade in the sun like other products can.

The uses for Re-Grip are nearly endless. Re-Grip can be added to farm and ranch equipment, sporting goods, fishing poles and gear, automotive tools, construction and industrial equipment, woodworking tools, lawn and garden tools, construction tools, bicycle handle bars, motorcycle grips or any cylindrical or semi-cylindrical object. Simply pull the zip cord and a favorite tool instantly has a fantastic new grip.

Though relatively new to the marketplace, Re-Grip has already established an extensive network that includes some of the largest distribution channels and retail outlets in the United States and Internationally. Re-Grip can be purchased from many major retail outlets and distributors around the country, including Home Depot, ACE Hardware, True Value, Grainger and more. See the full list of distributors at re-grip.com.

"Simply Amazing" says Daniel Ochie of Wisconsin. "I work with tools every day and this product has literally changed my life."

A Re-Gripped Tactical Flashlight

Established in 2010, Re-Grip is a California-based corporation that has set out to change the way people look at hand grips. Company founders John Vernieu and Pat Roscopf set out to revolutionize the grip industry by offering an affordable product that could be used in virtually any situation. No matter what field users are in, Re-Grip's patented products will exceed users' expectations and deliver what it promised.
