

New Laws Relating to a Mortgage

Expert witness testimony will be required as amount of mortgage litigation increases.

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, U.S., December 21, 2013 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Expert witness testimony will be required in many new lawsuits, related trials, and arbitrations that may develop as a result of each new law and regulation that affects a mortgage.

Mortgage expert witness testimony, as well as loan servicing expert witness testimony will be required more frequently if litigation increases, related to any mortgage.”

Joffrey Long

Expert witness testimony, from both the loan servicing expert witness and the mortgage expert will assist the parties to the conflicts, as well as the triers of fact, in both understanding and reaching some conclusion to litigation or regulatory enforcement actions, many of which may result from the major changes brought about by the Dodd-Frank Act and the enforcement efforts of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau.
