MyDx is not a new company; it has survived all the rigors that many of its peers did not survive. MyDx has come to stay; this is a fact due to the services it provides. MyDx help to make the consumer healthy by revealing the purity in what we eat and drink. Services like these are never saturated as the world is currently affected with several impurities, in food, drink and even the air we breathe.

Hear what Daniel Yazbeck CEO of MyDx has to say, "We are in the process of positioning the company for long-term stability and growth and we are very excited about our prospect"
