Cable Tester Market 2018

Cable testers are hand-held devices used to check the strength of the electrical or electronic signal travelling through a cable. The device is used to test the source of current as well as the load attached to the tester. The device also measures various parameters such as the current/voltage loss, the power factor, and the voltage standing wave ratio. In certain applications, the cable tester is also used to analyze not just the cable but the passive payload attached to the cable as well. The report has therefore considered such cable testers that are capable of providing feedback regarding the load attached as well. Cable testers also examine the cables that are physically connected within a LAN architecture. Many network integrators have found that cable failures cause 65% of the LAN downtimes. Thus, cable testers have a huge potential in the ICT industry where these devices are used to find the failure and control LAN downtimes.

The analysts forecast the global cable tester market to grow at a CAGR of 11.69% during the period 2017-2021.
