open arms to all African Americans and millions of African descendants in other countries, whose ancestors were enslaved, to return home this year as a memorial observation with Ghana leading the way.

Koshie Mills says; "This is an opportunity for everyone looking at Africa and its Diaspora to see how African women are not only beautiful, regal, intelligent, powerful and resilient, we are owning our own narrative and reclaiming our Queendom for the world to see. When we come together to exhibit pride in our heritage and celebrate one another, we are unmatched and unstoppable." The International Women of Power Luncheon is Mills' brainchild to further stimulate more conversations and foster cultural exchange.

About Koshie Mills

Koshie Mills is best known as a power broker in Hollywood. Before founding her boutique consulting and public relations firm K3PR, her experience in the entertainment industry came from over two decades of managing the careers of her three successful sons who are actors, tastemakers and young moguls within the television and film industries; Kwame Boateng (Everybody Hates Chris, The Plug), Kofi Siriboe (Girls Trip, Queen Sugar) Kwesi Boakye (Colony, Claws). An African woman at the core, Koshie created and executive produced The Diaspora Dialogues television show which aired in the fall of 2018 on The Africa Channel.

About The Diaspora Dialogues

The Diaspora Dialogues is a platform and a movement created by Koshie Mills designed to break down barriers, bridge the gap between Africans from Africa and the descendants outside of the continent in the Diaspora. The platform will allow Africans to engage in a series of intimate conversations via a television talk show format, events, public forums and discussions with entertainers, Influencers, tastemakers, local heroes and change agents. The Diaspora Dialogues will facilitate cultural exchange while fostering empathy for the purpose of uniting the global descendants of Africa to sustain future generations.
