CHICAGO, IL, USA, March 15, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Central Asian Chambers of Commerce will meet US Chambers in Chicago during The 2019 SILK ROAD CONFERENCE in April PUBLIC INVITED

Changing aspects for international business and trade resulting from China's "Silk Road Initiative" effecting some 60 countries; and meetings between chambers of commerce representing the Silk Road countries and representatives from regional chambers of commerce will take place April 2 and 3, 2019 and participate in sessions of the 2019 Silk Road Conference scheduled in Chicago on Wednesday, April 3, 2019.

The Belt Road Initiative will impact commerce in Southeast and Central Asia and Europe for the 100 years.”

Michael Alexander Krzyston

Private meetings between representatives from business, government, and academia are scheduled on Monday and Tuesday, April 1 and 2, will conclude with the annual Silk Road Conference scheduled from 8 AM until 5 PM, , at IIT's Kent College of Law Auditorium, 565 W. Adams St., Chicago.

Organized by the Central Asian Productivity Research Center, founded in Azerbaijan and Turkey in 1999, the event is co-sponsored by the Global Programs, College of Business, Northern Illinois University. Qualified attendees can attend free of charge, but advanced registration is required.

Almost thirty speakers and panelists will focus on the rapidly changing region that is described by a former undersecretary of defense as a very important strategic region for the US.

Professor Lepinske, CAPRC chairman, said, "Most Americans are not aware of the region, let alone its expanding importance. The region is changing rapidly. A cobweb of lines on a map across Central Asia in 1999 today is a cobweb of energy pipelines; Chinese are shipping freight from Southern China to Western Europe by rail in ten days; Europeans are driving to Beijing; and some 20,000 Americans are working in Azerbaijan.
