

AssurX Recognized for its Leading Energy and Utility Industry Quality and Compliance Solutions by Frost & Sullivan

AssurX awarded for Best Practices in quality management and regulatory compliance system software and customer retention in the energy & utilities industry.

MORGAN HILL, CA, UNITED STATES, May 2, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Based on its recent analysis of enterprise quality and compliance software providers in the energy & utilities market, growth partnership company Frost & Sullivan recognized AssurX, Inc. (AssurX) with the 2019 Best Practices Award for Customer Value Leadership.

AssurX was selected for its automated quality management and regulatory compliance software and industry-leading customer retention rate.

Compared with its competitors, Frost & Sullivan found that AssurX delivers exceptional product and customer value with end-to-end, automated quality management and regulatory compliance software solutions that identify what energy and utility companies need to solve from a quality and compliance management perspective in a single, reliable, versatile, and enterprise-wide platform.

"AssurX should be proud of its exceptional product and customer value," said Frost & Sullivan's analyst Sankara Narayanan. "What we found most impressive is that AssurX has a team of experts specifically dedicated to NERC and other requirements for resilience and cybersecurity. Its industry knowledge combined with its excellent customer relationships results in solutions adherent to the strictest compliance regulations. AssurX customers are benefiting from a future-proof platform and an adaptive business model."

The report distinguishes AssurX's service-driven support and continuous, customer-driven improvement. The report also praised the firm for delivering ease of use and configurability, adaptability, extremely high uptime and performance, integration with other systems, scalability, and flexible deployment options.

"We are honored to be recognized for our leadership in providing our energy and utilities customers with automated quality and compliance solutions designed to meet the complex regulatory needs of the industry," said Tamar June, CEO of AssurX. "Our solutions are designed with significant customer input in order to deliver maximum value now and into the future."
