

Protectly Now an Authorized Reseller & Distributor of Respokare N95 Masks

The company is one of the only PPE shops in the world offering the highly sought-after size large Respokare N95 mask.

PORTLAND, OREGON, UNITED STATES, February 20, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Renowned PPE shop, Protectly, is pleased to announce it been recognized as an authorized Respokare seller.

Headquartered in Portland, OR, Protectly is a reliable source of personal protective equipment (PPE) which offers the most comprehensive selection of N95 masks online. The company offers fast shipping nationwide and is the ultimate solution for consumers who wonder what N95 masks are made in the USA and where they can buy N95 masks online.

In the company's latest news, Protectly is officially designated as an authorized reseller and distributor of authentic Respokare N95 masks, which are manufactured by the PPE brand, Innonix. Respokare N95 masks are highly effective against 18 common seasonal and pandemic influenza viruses, including COVID-19, and Protectly is stocking these masks, including the sought-after large size, for both medical personnel and the general public. Additionally, Protectly is also stocking its Respokare anti-viral/anti-flu US patented 3-layer surgical masks to reach a broader consumer base.

"Both the N95 and the 3-layer surgical masks are FDA-cleared and approved as anti-viral and are currently the only FDA-cleared surgical anti-viral masks on the market," says spokesperson for Protectly, Richard Hale. "Over the past few months, we've built a close working relationship with Innonix and we are very proud to expand our partnership to incorporate the company's revolutionary products."
