

Motivosity Wins Comparably Awards for “Best Leadership Teams” & “Best Company Career Growth”

LEHI, UT, UNITED STATES, July 15, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- We've got to get a bigger trophy case! Adding both the award for Best Leadership Teams and the award for Best Company Career Growth to our shelves of accomplishments is HUGE and we're over the moon about it.

Winning these Comparably awards is especially important to the team at Motivosity because of how Comparably gathers their data. Motivosity didn't win Best Leadership Teams and Career Growth by some outside committee, but based on the feedback and ratings from actual Motivosity employees. The surveys were completely anonymous, and feedback included things like “I like that our leadership team is very active instead of reactive and come into each day with energy to keep improving and building the company, but also see that everyone needs to be a part of that and rely heavily on each member of the company so we can all grow together.”

Scott Johnson, Founder and CEO of Motivosity, commented saying “What sets Motivosity apart is the immense amount of positivity flowing in and through our business. It's contagious.” With focusing on “helping people be happier about being at work”, that starts internally. Motivosity's culture and product are centered around peer to peer recognition, a sense of community, and meaningful relationships between manager and team members. Winning both Best Leadership Teams and Best Company Career Growth is resounding proof of those values working on a deeper level than just office decor.

Comparably Awards are determined by reviews and responses given by the company's own employees. Survey questions range from sentiment ratings to how the employees feel about the future success of the company to how likely they are to recommend working for said company to a friend. The ratings are anonymously reported on Comparably.com during a three-month period from May 2021 through July 2021. It's important to note that all of this feedback was provided during the COVID19 pandemic, making these evaluations and ranking even more relevant for job seekers and in illustrating the true grit and resilience of the companies that placed.

After closing out an impressive second quarter, Motivosity continues to build their presence as a key player in the Employee Engagement and Recognition industries.
