Besides winning the Times-Standard Readers' Choice Best of the North Coast 2021, Happy Dog also takes pride in being the winner of the 2020 Nextdoor Favorite Doggy Day Care and Boarding Facility. About Eureka Happy Dog

Established in 1998 in Eureka, Humboldt County, Happy Dog is one of California's premier dog daycare and boarding facilities. It is the first alternative style doggy daycare and boarding facility of its kind in the North Coast region. Its establishment was inspired by the owners' wish to create a place they would also feel comfortable leaving their dogs.

The facility has state-of-the-art amenities, including seven primary play areas and a couple of non-group areas with ForeverLawn K-9 grass, allowing dogs to interact with friends that match their sociability and activity levels.

After a fun-filled day, every dog that boards in the facility enjoys a relaxing night in their spacious kennels on heated floors with soothing piped music. Happy Dog understands that proper nutrition is essential for a healthy and happy dog, and they serve All Life Stages Chicken and Rice and All Life Stages Four Protein. The staff can also prepare special food if necessary at no extra cost.

They also administer a dog's medication for the duration of its stay. The facility boasts a high-tech security system with night observation to ensure the dogs are safe round-the-clock. While

Happy Dog does not discriminate against specific dog breeds, they do not accept aggressive dogs.

Happy Dog Corporate Social Responsibility

Besides ensuring that dogs under their care are comfortable, happy, and healthy, Eureka Happy Dog also engages in various community development projects with the Humboldt Area Foundation. Jackie, the Happy Dog owner, is also a dedicated philanthropist. She donates to various local and national organizations involved in children's causes, human rights, animal rights, and feeding the hungry.
