Promote Diversity, Equity and Inclusion in the Workplace

USA, January 13, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ --

MyDisabilityJobs is an online job platform working closely with companies promoting inclusion and diversity in the workplace. We are happy to see that companies and businesses are slowly taking steps to ensure that people with disabilities are integrated into their workforce. HR departments are working hard to adapt to an inclusive work culture and provide a welcoming environment to disabled people.

About the founder of MyDisabilityJobs.com

MyDisabilityJobs was founded by Najim M. who has managed to develop a thriving and successful career despite his disability. At a young age, people had told him that he will end up homeless as he will not be able to find a job because of his physical disability. Najim didn't let these people influence him. He believed in himself and worked on developing his skills to build a career. His resilience and positive mindset got him to where he is now.

“

MyDisabilityJobs.com acts as a bridge between companies and people with disabilities.”

Najim M.

His experience inspired him to start MyDisabilityJobs. Najim believes that living with a disability has its challenges and daily life obstacles. However, when it comes to building a fulfilling career path or finding a decent job, it should no longer be the case in our modern society.
