

Harris & Associates, Highly Regarded Investment Advisor Company, Examines How H&A Makes Clients Money in a Down Market

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, May 11, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Harris & Associates, a Registered Investment Advisor, creates strategies that protect clients from volatility and even gain a few dollars in a down market.

With interest rates on the rise, and equities shedding significant value, most investors may be feeling nervous about their retirement and capital investments. However, it doesn't have to be so.

While many advisors collect a fee and remain passive in managing client assets, Harris & Associates is an active manager. Of course, actively managing client portfolios is not a panacea. During down markets, many active managers move clients to more short-term bonds and other low-yield income positions. They buy 'defensive' equities such as utilities, health care, and commodities. But, in this market, those defensive positions have suffered substantial losses right along with technology and other more aggressive sectors.

May 5th was a "cliff drop" after the rally the day before when the Fed announced its 50-basis point increase in interest rates. Here are three May 5, 2022 end of day Financial Indexes: (reference graph 1)

How would people like to see their May 5th portfolio basically flat and stable, with a little gain like this? (reference graph 2)
