- Clear Aligner Treatment with Digital Workflows

Recognized as one of the Leaders in Digital Dentistry, Dr. Radwa Saad emphasized how cutting-edge technologies are redefining cosmetic dentistry, implant placement, and smile transformations for patients in New Jersey, New York, and beyond. She spoke about how digital workflows are transforming both patient care and practice efficiency. She shared her insights on how technology-driven solutions elevate the field of cosmetic dentistry, particularly for the growing adult clear aligner market.

During the conference, Dr. Saad met with Dentsply Sirona CEO Mr. Daniel Scavilla to discuss how SureSmile clear aligners are revolutionizing cosmetic dentistry by providing a transformative approach for adult patients seeking aesthetic and functional improvements. She also connected with Ivoclar CEO Mr. Markus Heinz and Mr. Chet Spivey, CCO North America, strengthening relationships with some of the world's leading dental innovators.

Reflecting on her experience at DS World, Dr. Saad stated:

Digital dentistry empowers us to create smiles with precision, artistry, and confidence. Speaking at DS World 2025 was an honor and a celebration of innovation shaping patient care”

Dr. Radwa Saad

“Digital dentistry is not the future—it’s the present. The integration of advanced technologies allows us to design treatment plans with unprecedented accuracy, efficiency, and artistry. DS World is where innovation and inspiration come together, and it was an honor to contribute as a speaker this year.”

Beyond the lecture halls, DS World 2025 also featured powerful moments of connection and inspiration. Dr. Saad reconnected with colleagues, formed new collaborations, and had the opportunity to meet Orange Theory co-founder Ellen Latham, who shared her inspiring entrepreneurial journey. The event culminated with a memorable performance by Grammy Award-winning artist Sheryl Crow, adding an unforgettable note to the conference experience.

Dr. Saad continues to bring her passion for advanced cosmetic dentistry and digital workflows to her patients at Dent Blanche Dental, headquartered in Princeton, NJ, with an upcoming
