

TECWARE Unveils the Ghost: A Compact 75% Mechanical Keyboard

The Ghost is a compact mechanical keyboard focused on comfort and a polished user experience

SINGAPORE, December 9, 2025

/EINPresswire.com/ -- TECWARE, a global PC hardware and peripheral manufacturer, today announced the launch of the Ghost, its new 75% mechanical keyboard that combines compact form and a carefully designed build for an elevated typing experience.

TECWARE's Newly Released Ghost Keyboard in Black

Designed with gamers, typists, and creators in mind, the Ghost features an 82-key layout within a compact footprint and minimalist design, offering clean aesthetics without compromising on functionality. It includes the modern essentials like per-key RGB lighting, wireless connectivity, and a dedicated volume knob. But what sets it apart is its finely tuned typing experience, bringing together a creamy sound profile and premium typing feel, without the premium price tag.

With the Ghost, we wanted to deliver an accessible entry point into the world of premium mechanical keyboards.”

TECWARE Spokesperson

Behind the Ghost’s creamy sound profile are TECWARE’s custom pre-lubed switches, engineered for smooth and consistent keypresses straight out of the box. Paired with multiple layers of sound dampening, this produces a clean and consistent sound with every keystroke. Each switch sits on a hot-swappable 5-pin socket, allowing users to replace switches over time or exchange them for aftermarket options.

The TECWARE Ghost, with its MSRP of $49.99, will be available on Amazon in the U.S. and select international retailers before the end of December 2025. Pricing and regional availability may vary.
