EINPresswire.com/ -- Luxent, a technology consulting firm that helps mid-size companies streamline operations and accelerate growth with intelligent, cloud-based business solutions, today announced that Harbour, a global leader in luxury indoor and outdoor furniture design, has selected Luxent iQ CPQ to enhance its quoting and order configuration process.

Harbour is known worldwide for its modern, coastal-inspired furniture that blends handcrafted quality with durable, high-end materials. The company's vertical integration—from design through manufacturing—enables tight control over quality and customization. As Harbour continues to expand its product offerings and global customer base, it needed a powerful yet intuitive solution to manage its growing portfolio of configurable products and streamline its sales operations.

"Harbour's designs are synonymous with craftsmanship, quality, and detail," said Vivian Keena, CEO of Luxent. "iQ CPQ brings that same precision and artistry to the sales process—helping Harbour's team deliver accurate, customized quotes faster and more efficiently. We're proud to support a brand that exemplifies excellence in both design and customer experience."

"Every Harbour piece is made with care, and our customers expect a seamless, premium experience from start to finish. Luxent iQ allows our sales and operations teams to quote
