companies worldwide. Running across two parallel tracks — The Modern Legal Leader: Strategy, Risk & Growth and Legal Innovation, IP & Technology — the conference delivered actionable insights on the most pressing challenges and opportunities facing the global legal profession.

Day one opened with high-impact discussions on ESG integration, employment law and DEI mandates, the evolving role of the General Counsel in business growth, corporate litigation strategy, and the transformative potential of generative AI in legal practice. A standout LexTalk Deep Dive session explored the ethics, economics, and workforce implications of the Generative AI revolution across three dedicated rounds.

Day two continued the momentum with sessions on governance, risk and compliance integration, contract management at scale, building competitive IP strategies, patent eligibility in emerging technologies, and a forward-looking panel on “The Legal Function in 2030: Vision, Tech & People.”

Attendees also benefited from interactive case studies, round-table discussions, and dedicated networking moments including morning Welcome Tea and One-on-One introductions.

The conference closed with the prestigious Global Legal Honors Awards ceremony and cocktail reception, recognizing more than 100 outstanding individuals and organizations for excellence and innovation in the legal industry.

LexTalk World extends its deepest gratitude to its valued partners:

- * Presenting Sponsor: MRS
- * Diamond Sponsors: Allcanza, CaseDocker
- * Gold Sponsors: Borges Advogados, KLIP

and to every speaker, exhibitor, knowledge partner, and delegate whose participation made this edition unforgettable.

“This was our strongest San Francisco conference to date,” said the LexTalk World organizing team.

“The depth of conversation, the quality of networking, and the enthusiasm for shaping the future of law were truly set a new benchmark. We are already looking forward to welcoming the global legal community to our next edition.”
