"We are so grateful to NCTV17 and their Executive Director, Liz Spencer, for the opportunity to share our thought process and approach to home remodeling projects on Business Connection. We understand that home improvement can be one of those 'have-to' things that homeowners dread. At Opal, we see things differently. We see a home improvement or repair project as a way to show our clients the potential their home has. To really make the home not just efficient but also eye-popping and the stand-out home on the block," explained Tara Opalski, Co-Owner and Marketing Manager of Opal Enterprises.
