

Coachella Valley Healthcare Professionals Asked To Rally for Massive 4-Day Health Care Clinic

Healthcare providers are asked to volunteer their services for a massive 4-day healthcare clinic to be conducted by California CareForce April 3-6 2014.

INDIO, CA, USA, February 12, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Free medical, dental and vision care will once again be offered at a massive health clinic to be held for Coachella Valley Residents April 3-6, 2014 at the Riverside County Fairgrounds in Indio, CA.

The clinic, conducted by California CareForce along with the Coachella Valley Community Trust, California Association of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeons (CALAOMS) and Goldenvoice, are expected to provide care for an anticipated 900 people per day if the event is fully staffed.

The inaugural Coachella Expedition held in April 2013, provided much needed services to 2,770 patients, for a total value of services provided estimated at 1.05 million dollars. All services were free to patients.

“

These patients are so grateful that somebody cares about them and feel abandoned by the system. Volunteers have the most fulfilling and gratifying experience of helping out those in your community.”

Pamela Congdon

California CareForce is asking medical professionals in the community to rally together to serve the underprovided of the community by donating their time as a volunteer on one or more days of the 4-day event.

In addition to general volunteers to help as translators, assistants, and handle administrative duties, California CareForce is seeking professionals in the following areas:

- Oral Surgeons
- Dentists
- Hygienists
- Dental Assistants
- Dental X-RAY Techs
- Ophthalmologists
- Optometrist

- Opticians
- Ophthalmic Techs
- Doctors
- Nurses
- LVN's/LPN's
- EMT's
- Acupuncturists
- Chiropractors.

In addition to in-state volunteers, out-of-state medical practitioners with valid, current, and active licenses are also able to participate. To learn more about volunteer positions and requirements, visit: <http://www.californiacareforce.org/Volunteers/VolunteerInformation.aspx>.

"At a California CareForce clinic patients receive quality medical, dental and vision services. These patients are so grateful that somebody cares about them. They feel abandoned by the system. As a volunteer at the clinic, you will have the most fulfilling and gratifying experience of helping out those in your community," said Pamela Congdon, California CareForce President and Volunteer Coordinator.

The Healthcare clinic will have 70 dental stations, 20 medical exam rooms and 10 vision lanes. A vision lab will produce free prescription eyeglasses on site while patients wait. Dentistry will include cleanings, fillings and extractions. Medical doctors will provide services ranging from consultation and diagnosis to minor medical procedures.

Nurses will staff triage areas and provide medical assistance. Clinic patients will be seen on a first-come-first serve basis, with no income test or eligibility requirement of any kind to receive treatment.

About California CareForce:

California CareForce is a non-profit dedicated to providing free mobile health care clinics for those unable to afford care. California CareForce organizes free mobile medical clinics to provide communities short-term medical, dental and vision care. During each expedition, a community center, school or some other public space is used to setup 30 to 100 dental stations, eye exam stations, and medical care stations and provide patients with free services including making eyeglasses on site. California CareForce clinics are operated by volunteer professionals that take time from their practices to give back to the community.
