Maul Firm Investigates Claims Relating to UnitedHealthCare's Coordination of Benefits with Medicare

Investigation concerns allegations that UnitedHealthCare's method of coordinating benefits with Medicare improperly increases costs to patients

BROOKLYN, NEW YORK, USA, June 23, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Maul Firm, P.C. is investigating claims on behalf of health insurance participants relating to UnitedHealthCare's coordination of benefits with Medicare. Participants with potential claims are advised to contact Anthony F. Maul, Esq. at afmaul@maulfirm.com or (646) 263-5780.

The investigation concerns allegations that UnitedHealthCare systematically under-reimburses its Medicare-eligible members by manipulating insurance benefit calculations. Potential claimants include Medicare-eligible patients who were insured by UnitedHealthCare (including by subsidiaries Oxford or OptumHealth), and who made out-of-pocket co-payments for health care services.

The Maul Firm's principal attorney, Anthony F. Maul, has over a decade of experience in complex and class action litigation. With a practice focused on health care advocacy and reform, Mr. Maul provides expert legal and consulting services to patients, providers and professional associations.
