PUNE, INDIA, August 4, 2017
/EINPresswire.com/ -- Pune, India, 4th August 2017: WiseGuyReports announced addition of new report, titled "Global Potash Market: Industry Analysis & Outlook (2017-2021)".

Potash is a vitally important element, necessary for the functioning of all living organisms. It is a natural component of soils and, along with phosphorus and nitrogen, an irreplaceable nutrient for plants and agricultural crops. Balanced plant nutrition can only be ensured by regular and timely application of these three main macronutrients. Potash has been used throughout history in the manufacture of glass and soap, but is used primarily as a fertilizer, with 95 % of all potash produced being used in this way, as there is no known substitute that rivals its effectiveness in this capacity. Potassium helps produce healthier, higher yields, and without potassium fertilizer, world production of food, feed and fiber would drop by one-third or more.
