

Wondering if You Should Replace Your Old Windows? This Seven-Point Checklist is for You!

American Home Improvements posts seven-point checklist on their website to help homeowners determine when it's time to replace old windows for comfort

ELKHART, INDIANA, USA, October 30, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Elkhart, IN; October 30, 2017 – American Home Improvements has released a new, seven-point checklist to help homeowners decide when to replace existing windows with those incorporating advanced, energy saving and comfort technologies. The checklist can see accessed at the company's website, www.AmHomeImp.com.

Company president Doug Kline said, “We understand replacement windows are a major investment that requires some careful analysis of the pros and cons. We’ve created our checklist to help people go through a series of seven questions to help them make a sound purchase decision, based on the facts, rather than a high-pressure sales pitch.”

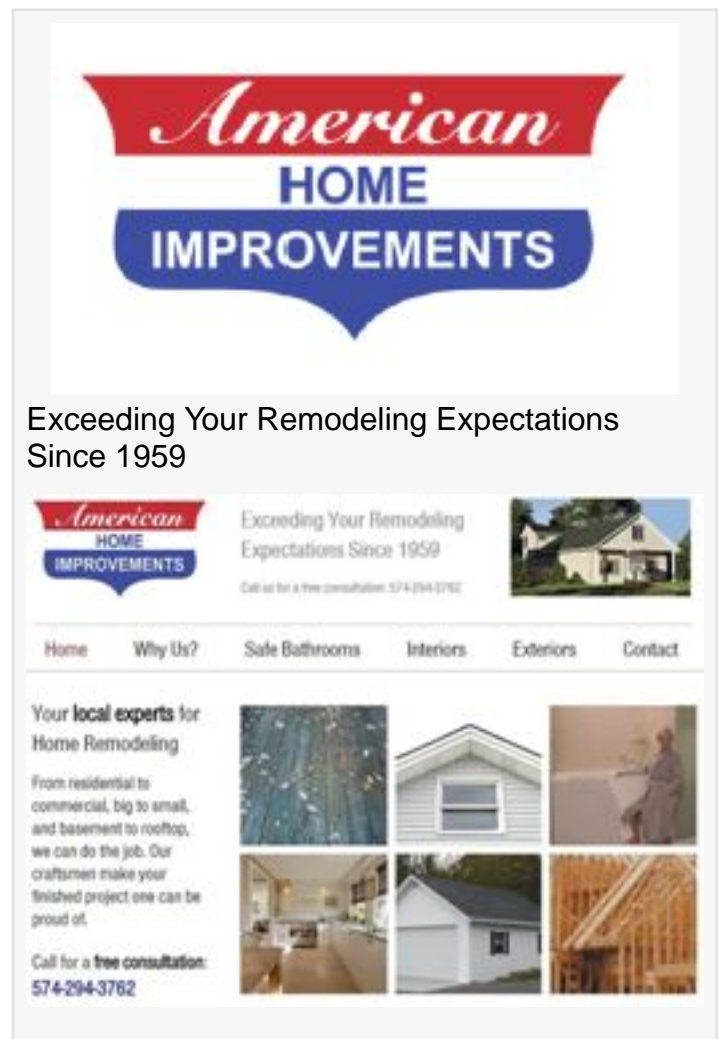

Kline continued, “Our approach is to help our customers understand the range of available options and technologies, which can be confusing. We take the time to explain the difference between Low-E and Smartglass coatings, as well as Argon and Krypton gas filled sealed panes. There are important thickness and cavity differences between brands, plus new warm-edge technologies for an extra measure of comfort. Our job is to make all this advanced technology understandable. And if the customer decides to go ahead, to install their new windows correctly, while treating our customers’ homes with respect. We work in a safe, secure manner and leave every home spotlessly clean.”

Precept Partner's web developer Stephen Antisdell added, “We posted the checklist to the website and provided a hyperlink from the homepage to make it easy to find. Once a visitor clicks through to the checklist, they can read it online, or download it as a PDF file allowing them to read it offline or print it out for future reference.”
