PUNE, INDIA, November 22, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Indian Medical Tourism Market:

Executive Summary

Indian medical tourism market is expected to more than double by 2022 from its current size in 2016. India has emerged as a preferred healthcare & wellness destination for patients across the globe. As medical treatment costs in the developed world balloon - with the United States leading the way - more and more Western countries are finding the prospect of international travel for medical care increasingly appealing. The Indian government has removed many visa restrictions and introduced a visa-on-arrival scheme for medical tourists from selected countries; this allows foreign nationals to stay in India for 30 days for medical reasons and can even get a visa of up to 1 year depending upon treatment requirements.

In the Indian medical tourism market, Bangladesh, Afghanistan and Maldives are the leading source countries for medical tourist arrivals. These three countries together account for around 55 percent share of the Indian medical tourism market in 2016. Iraq, Oman, Nigeria and Kenya are the other top source market for Indian medical tourism market. Russia, Tanzania, UAE and Yemen are the emerging source market for medical tourist arrivals in India.
