

UHMS welcomes Derall Garrett as new UHMS Hyperbaric Facility Accreditation Director

NORTH PALM BEACH, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, December 14, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Derall Garrett has joined the Undersea and Hyperbaric Medical Society as Hyperbaric Facility Accreditation Director. His appointment became effective Monday, December 4, when he began work with retiring accreditation director Tom Workman and HFA coordinator Beth Hands.

Mr. Garrett has been working in the field of hyperbaric medicine for more than a decade. He is a graduate of the College of Oceaneering, certified as a commercial diver and a diver medic. He is a Certified Hyperbaric Technician through the National Board of Diving Hyperbaric Technologist since 2000.

Garrett has experience working with both Class A and B hyperbaric systems in a variety of settings. He is certified by two hyperbaric chamber manufacturers to provide service and maintenance to their Class B hyperbaric systems.

“Derall is uniquely qualified for the position of Director of the HFA department,” noted UHMS

Executive Director John Peters. “His years of experience as an accreditation surveyor will benefit the department and the UHMS greatly.

“Tom has done a remarkable job preparing the position for Derall,” added Peters. “With assistance from HFA Coordinator Beth Hands, UHMS Accreditation Council Chair Dr. Brett Hart, and myself, Derall will have a dedicated support system as he comes up to speed.”

In addition, Tom Workman will provide an expanded department orientation beyond his December 31 retirement

Derall Garrett joined Diversified Therapy in 2002 as the Safety Director for the Wound Care and Hyperbaric Medicine program at University Community Hospital – Carrollwood, Tampa, Florida. In 2006, Mr. Garrett became the VP of Hyperbaric Services for Innovative Healing Systems until 2012. From 2012 to now, he has been working under his own branded hyperbaric consulting and service company, providing services globally.

A resident of Melbourne Beach, Florida, Mr. Garrett has been a UHMS member since 2003 and UHMS HFA surveyor since 2013 and has completed numerous surveys over the years.

About the UHMS

The Undersea and Hyperbaric Medical Society was formed in 1967. It is an international non-profit association serving some 2,400-plus physicians, scientists, associates and nurses from more than 50 countries in the fields of hyperbaric and dive medicine.

The UHMS is an important source of scientific and medical information pertaining to hyperbaric medicine involving hyperbaric oxygen therapy and diving through its bimonthly, peer-reviewed journal, Undersea and Hyperbaric Medicine, symposia, workshops, books and other publications.

UHMS organizes an annual scientific meeting at different U.S. and international locations to permit review of the latest in research and treatment and to promote the highest standards of practice.
