TigerEx rolls out revolutionary bitcoin spot exchange where buyers and sellers can trade through a publicly open centralized orderbook.

LAGOS, LAGOS, NIGERIA, June 29, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- TigerEx rolls out revolutionary bitcoin spot market, based in Nigerian Naira. Simultaneously TigerEx releases bestin-class products for instant international transfers, investment and bitcoin exchange.

"For the first time ever, Nigerians can now trade in a safe, centralized place in which they know their counterparty has the Naira or Bitcoin to complete the trade and close immediately. There are public open order book for bids and asks denominated in bitcoin, Naira and Dollars allowing Nigerians to deal directly with Nigerians in price discovery and benefit from cheaper transactions and fairer pricing," said Nicholas Levenstein, founder of TigerEx. There are no reason citizens in Africa's largest economy should not see the same opportunities.

TigerEx will pay its users to make a market. The "Maker" fee on TigerEx will be negative such that people who come buy or sell based on others' bids and asks, will pay extra to the market makers with TigerEx taking only half of the fees, or less since referral fees will be paid.
