Factors such as rising geriatric population, practice of unhealthy lifestyle such as alcoholism, smoking tobacco are crucial factors for life threatening diseases such as pancreatic cancer, pancreatitis and gall bladder and biliary diseases. The growth of the market is hampered in 2020 due to the occurrence of coronavirus pandemic in which all worldwide business activities are put at hold for the first few months of the year. Also, the patient volume has declined and all the surgeries postponed due to the severity of the coronavirus. However, the impact of Covid-19 will not majorly impact the endoscopic diagnosis and treatment.
