Impresario turned TV Producer Rocco Buonvino launches new Feel Good Factor TV on November 7th on Sky 192.

TV to help you Feel Good - an idea that was born during the first lockdown is now set to launch during the second lockdown.

LONDON, UK, November 3, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Feel Good Factor TV is the brainchild of impresario Rocco Buonvino - better known for his huge stage shows in London with names such as Al Pacino, Arnold Schwarzenegger, Sir Cliff Richard, Whoopi Goldberg, Rod Stewart, Sylvester Stallone, Michael Douglas and Sophia Loren.

With stage shows cancelled due to the Pandemic Rocco turned his attention to TV. Being of Italian descent and living in London he felt obliged to play a part in showing support and love for the people in Italy and pulled together a TV tribute ‘Help For Italy’ in June 2020.

Worried about the continued state of the nation’s mental health and well being, Rocco decided to do more for the UK and has now - together with a great team of artists and producers - pulled together a 13 week TV series called the FEEL GOOD FACTOR which will air for the first time on November 7th on Sky 192.

As we approach the end of a year few will forget and a Christmas no one can predict, Feel Good Factor TV is designed to uplift, inspire, entertain, and support a nation through the winter months.

The idea for the series came about during the first lockdown (and is now set to launch in lockdown number two) - to create something different to uplift people during the difficult times.
we have all faced through the Covid-19 pandemic. During a time that will go down in history, the Feel Good Factor TV team have created history, by creating a brand new 13 week series in record speed.
