

Woolroom All Natural Mattress At Peak Production in US

Company's completely chemical free mattresses ramp up to meet consumer demand

CHARLESTON, SC, UNITED STATES, November 20, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Woolroom, the world's premium wool bedding manufacturer, reached their production goals just weeks after the launch of their all-natural wool mattress and topper, the Woolly Collection, in the US. The mattress and topper are in stock and ready for anyone looking to improve the quality of their sleep.

"We're thrilled with the ramp up in US mattress production, and can now meet the demands for healthier and sustainable sleep with our all natural Woolly Collection," said Chris Tattersall, Managing Director of Woolroom. "Unlike other luxury mattress brands that are on 6-8 week delivery times, we're delivering a product within 10 days that is cleaner, traceable, chemical free, and sustainable - clearly a better and faster choice for a healthier sleep environment."

A first in the mattress industry, The Woolly Collection provides definitive proof of the sustainable, ethical nature of the company's wool, directly down to its source at the farm.

Online ordering and customized bundles are available now for American consumers, and can be delivered within 10 days. Production and stock remain strong headed into the holiday season, as more Americans are gifting their families the promise of clean, quality sleep.

About the Woolly Collection: Completely chemical free, the Woolly Mattress combines 4500 coils with hand-selected natural fillings for a supportive and comfortable sleeping surface ensuring longevity, integrity and comfort. Woolroom's blend of a merino wool cover and traceable wool makes these products naturally chemical free and flame retardant. Both the mattress and topper are latex and foam free, delivering better breathability and moisture management.

At Woolroom, the small details don't go unnoticed.
