personalised guidance of blue collared workers in India called Saksham, and having also innovated a digital census system for unorganised sector in the State of Uttar Pradesh. The Prime Minister of India has referred to the works of Sapio Analytics in the past and is regularly apprised of its digital innovations in decision making. Lord Rami Ranger CBE, Lt Gen K J Singh and Dr Dinesh Tryambake are part of its global advisory board, with patrons in form of various world leaders.

"My vision is to make Sapio Analytics a global brand. We will strive to make Sapio a trusted brand for governments across the world by creating customised solutions to help improve governance and policy making process", adds Nikam about his role and vision for the company. "It's an honour to get an opportunity to work with Prashant Nikam who has proven himself to be a government officer driving changes within governments and is able to appreciate the power of new age technologies in driving such change. Sapio has formed its geopolitical division, heritage restoration division, media arm, electric vehicles division and healthcare divisions, with each division focusing on creating a major positive dent in the global society, creating a new system of governance involving citizens across all departments. And we need exceptional leaders with global mindset to lead us into the same", says Srivastava about the appointment.

Sapio Analytics has recently been in news for its smart healthcare division and its efforts to fight COVID-19 in India.
