

Bisk and Emory & Henry College Partner to Deliver Online Curriculum

Innovative Rapid Online Development model essential in growing the college's footprint in online education

TAMPA, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, July 21, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Bisk, a global leader in online education, and Emory & Henry College, a private liberal arts college in southwest Virginia, partner to provide online courses.

Bisk and Emory & Henry College (E&H) have collaborated to evolve 30 of E&H's core curriculum courses into flexible digital learning options. Through this cooperative project, E&H has created a portfolio of fully online courses to attract and meet the needs of nontraditional students, adult learners and professionals seeking four-year degrees, certificates, or continuing education. Bisk's Learning Design team utilized its proprietary Rapid Online Development (ROD) model to accelerate course creation and deliver online courses essential for E&H students to meet their educational requirements and advance to their major area of study.

"Providing students and faculty with the right resources to complete their core courses and thrive is top priority for Bisk," said Dr. Jennifer King, executive director of academic success. "By utilizing our Rapid Online Development model and years of experience building successful online programs, we were able to meet Emory & Henry's learning objectives, assist faculty in moving courses online quickly and engage students in remote learning."

Bisk's innovative ROD model adapts existing on-campus content to online learning and compresses typical instructional design from 16 weeks to eight weeks or less. Collaborating with faculty, Bisk converted E&H's 15-week on-campus courses to an accelerated model of seven-week online courses within a two-month timeframe, allowing undergrad students to remotely complete their necessary core courses.

"We are very pleased with the quality of courses developed in partnership with Bisk and our outstanding faculty," says Dr. Lou Fincher, senior vice president and dean of the School of Health Sciences. "Working with Bisk provided the resources and expertise to deliver world-class online courses in record time, and I have no doubt our courses will benefit a whole new generation of Emory & Henry students."
