EINPresswire.com/ -- Hosting a party is fun, but it takes a lot of work. A Bash in a Box, which just launched last month, delivers the party directly to homes, taking the headache out of party planning.

A Bash in a Box combines the two passions of owner and founder Amy Nell, who has worked in design and marketing for more than 20 years.

"I've always been creative and, let's face it, a little extra when throwing a party," Nell said. "I wanted to create one place online where a busy mom could go and get quality party invitations, ideas and decor that was custom and personalized."

With A Bash in a Box, simply choose the theme for the party, customize the party, and the Bash in a Box team will take care of the rest. The company has several custom-designed themes for birthdays, showers, gender reveals and many other types of parties. If they do not have a specific theme already prepared, the team will design it.

Party packs simplify planning by allowing customers to pick a ready-made theme, or party items can be chosen a la carte. Invitations for the party can be customized through the Bash in a Box website. Everything related to the theme is personalized with a name for invitations, envelopes, a Facebook header, t-shirts, Save the Dates, banners and gift bags. Addresses can even be printed on envelopes, or photos can be added to invitations.

Party boxes include custom invitations and envelopes; custom tableware such as plates, napkins, forks and cups; a custom banner; a balloon garland; streamers and balloons; and a Facebook event header. Upgrades are available to add a larger balloon garland, centerpieces, decorations, wall hangings, gift bags, yard signs, t-shirts, gift bag fillers and Save the Date postcards.

One popular party theme currently is the Night Before Christmas Box. The box includes a personalized Christmas Box from the North Pole, a personalized Christmas book, a story about your child, Christmas flannel pajama bottoms, a printed long sleeve pajama top, fuzzy Christmas socks, a Christmas mug, a hot cocoa bomb and marshmallows, reindeer food and a personalized letter from Santa.

Visit the A Bash in a Box blog for tips on throwing the perfect stress-free party or get inspired with free food and game ideas and other tips to make the party the hit of the year.

A Bash in a Box donates 10 percent of all sales toward sending Birthday Party Boxes to orphanages in the United States.

"Life is worth celebrating, and I wanted to create A Bash in a Box to make it easier for people to throw parties without stress," Nell said.
