More About the Benefits of CBD for pets:

There is anecdotal evidence from dog owners as well as scientific studies that show CBD can have positive effects on pets. CBD is a compound found in cannabis and hemp. While this is often confused with Marijuana, CBD is derived from hemp and does not contain psychoactive properties. CBD is used because of its anti-inflammatory properties, cardiac benefits, anti-nausea effects, appetite stimulation, anti-anxiety impact, and for possible anti-cancer benefits in humans and more recently, in pets as well. CBD can provide positive effects on the following physical and behavioral issues:

Arthritis: Several studies have looked at CBD's effectiveness against arthritic pain, all with positive results. Some dogs were initially so decrepit that their owners considered euthanasia, but that after just days on CBD they were trotting around and even climbing stairs.

Itchiness: A study found that CBD reduced itchiness, inflammation, and skin lesions by 51 percent after eight weeks of treatment.

Cancer: Cannabinoids are reported to induce cancer-cell death and prevent metastasis. Researchers found CBD, along with a standard chemotherapy drug, reduced cancer-cells more than the chemotherapy drug alone.

Behavior: Anxiety, and especially noise reactivity, is a major reason dog owners seek help using CBD. In one study, Shelter dogs with aggressive tendencies exhibited less aggression toward humans when tested after 15 days of CBD administration.

Seizures: A lot of anecdotal reports hail CBD's success combatting seizures in dogs.
