go on eShip's website and fill out the quote online or call eShip to have one of their knowledgeable agents gather information to provide a quote. After the client has chosen to use eShip the client will need to secure their booking. No payment is required until a carrier is selected and a pick-up is scheduled. Next, one of eShip's professional drivers arrives at a pre-arranged location for vehicle pick up. Together, the client and he/she will do a detailed inspection of the vehicle and fill out a Bill of Lading. A Bill of Lading is a document that records the exact condition of the vehicle at the beginning of its transport journey. After, the driver will load and secure the vehicle before starting its transport to its new location. Lastly, the client is reunited with their vehicle at the arranged location. The driver will communicate when getting close to the drop-off location. Upon arrival, after the vehicle is unloaded it will be re-inspected before signing the Bill of Lading. Any time during the transport process if there is a question or an update is wanted on progress, call eShip to speak with an agent who can answer any questions or forward the call to the driver.

Open and Enclosed Auto Transport

First-Class Vehicle Transport

The innovative logistics at eShip has allowed them to not only perform transport but a variety of transport. EShip Transport offers open, enclosed, expedited, and ocean transport. Open transport is the most affordable and common transport, where cars are transported on a big, open car carrier trailer. The car is secure, locked in place and safe. Despite being open on the road, the risk beyond dust is very low. Enclosed transport is great for classic or exotic cars because the car is protected from the elements by either metal sides or open sides with a tarp. As eShip states, "Time is a priceless commodity" and because of that, they offer expedited transport that is fast and efficient transport. Most of all though, they cover all 50 states, including Hawaii so they can provide boat transport across the Pacific Ocean.
