The Global Peritoneal Dialysis Market is forecasted to be worth USD 5.73 billion by 2027, according to a new report by Emergen Research. The key factors influencing the market include higher incidences of kidney diseases, lifestyle diseases & chronic diseases that affect the function of the kidneys of removing the waste product from the blood. Technological advancement in healthcare equipment & diagnosis solutions and higher investment in the healthcare systems are some of the supplementary factors that help drive the market growth.

A higher preference for the peritoneal dialysis over the most common system of dialysis called hemodialysis has been a crucial reason behind the higher enforcement of this market. The drastic difference in the lifestyle flexibility & independence, reduced restriction in the diet, long-lasting residual kidney functioning compared to hemodialysis are some of the reasons the patients and the doctors are now being more inclined towards the peritoneal dialysis.
