The aluminum rolled products market consists of sales of aluminum rolled products by entities (organizations, sole traders, and partnerships) that are used for a wide range of applications and industries. Aluminum rolled products are manufactured by passing the aluminum billets or slabs between high-grade rollers, for reducing their overall thickness. The rollers are used to apply pressure on the top and bottom of the slab, till the desired thickness is attained. These aluminum plates or sheets can be further lengthened through cold and hot rolling processes. Aluminum rolled products are used in various industries due to their durable, high strength, and lightweight characteristics.

aluminum, has introduced the generation II of its aluminum-intensive battery enclosure for electric vehicles. The advanced aluminum-sheet-intensive reduces the weight and cost of the battery and it offers higher pack energy density compared to other electric vehicle battery enclosures. The new aluminum-intensive battery enclosure with advanced cell-to-pack modular architecture offers a best-in-class frame mass efficiency of below 1.0 kg/Kwh and a 30% improvement in energy density.
