SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, June 23, 2022

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Bay Area born and award winning personal care brand Sugar Sugar Wax has taken strips, spatulas and all of the toxic and plastic ingredients out of waxing with their sugar-based biodegradable, and reusable hair removal putty, and is now on Amazon Prime.

The 2 year old brand introduced reusable sugaring hair removal to the American market during the Covid-19 global pandemic in June of 2020, with an innovative formula that only sticks to hair and dead skin, making removing body hair and facial fuzz virtually painless.

Until now Sugar Sugar Wax's products including the Glow Goop sugaring wax, and the multi-functional drying powder Detox Dust, along with the rest of the line was only available on their website. Today, Amazon Prime members can get their sugar shipped for free in as little as 24 hours.

"We manufacture most of our products in our California facility, which meant that our customers in Virginia or Massachusetts would wait 4 or even 5 days for their order to arrive. Now with Amazon as a fulfillment partner with distribution centers all over the United States, our customers don't have to wait" - said Salome Sallehy, Founder and President at Sugar Sugar Wax.

While sugaring as a method of hair removal has been around for quite some time, reusable at-home sugaring wax is a fairly new technique and requires some learning, and Sugar Sugar Wax is paving the way for new customers. Aside from the 4 step process that they're known for, Sugar Sugar Wax shares tutorials and live demonstrations on their Instagram account and Youtube channels to help newbies embrace sugaring.

"We have to make it easy, simple, and effective for our customers to learn how to sugar at home because our mission is to be a safe and environmentally friendly option for hair removal, and our youngest customers are 9 and 10 years old" stated Sallehy.

Amazon Prime customers can view the tutorial videos on Sugar Sugar's Amazon store.
