announced today results of their first quarter operations.

PERSONAL SOMMELIERS

Day-of-Event Food & Beverage Professionals

Quarterly revenue increased 147% over the same quarter last year, while the number of completed events increased 113% and their National Talent Pool grew to 1,426 Food & Beverage Professionals. (Personal Sommeliers is privately-held and does not disclose financial details.)

For the immediate future, we anticipate a slow-down in event bookings, as our customers rethink their discretionary spending in light of the coming Recession.”

Robert Smith, President & Master Sommelier

“We are happy to report that sales growth resumed this quarter, led by strong demand for Event Bartenders & Sommeliers. Additionally, we experienced more frequent requests for culinary talent, including Professional Chefs to prepare fresh food for small, private dinners and Garde Mangers to manage prepared food for larger events.” said Robert Smith, President & Master Sommelier.

He added “For the immediate future, we anticipate a slow-down in event bookings, as our customers rethink their discretionary spending in light of the coming Recession. As a result, we will turn our focus as an organization to growing & consolidating our National Roster of top Food & Beverage Professionals, with an eye on increasing our bench strength of Executive Chef, Chef de Cuisine, Sous Chef and Garde Manger talent in every market we serve.”
