NEW YORK CITY, NEW YORK, USA,
August 5, 2022 /EINPresswire.com/ --
The Coconut Sugar Market is forecast to reach USD 2.64 Billion by 2027, according to a new report by Reports and Data. Coconut sugar is expected to witness a surge in demand, attributed to the growth of the end-user industries across the globe. Moreover, the rising awareness amongst health-conscious people for coconut sugar due to its high nutritional attributes which is fostering the market's demand. However, the availability of counterfeited, low-cost products hampering the order of the market. Several initiatives taken by governments worldwide are playing an instrumental role in driving the growth of the market. For instance, the usage of the product is supported by the Indian government under the Coconut Development Board of the Ministry of Agriculture, as India contributes to the list of top producers of the coconut across the globe. Moreover, other governments in nations such as Indonesia, Philippines, and Sri Lanka are also supporting their respective countries to create an increased product demand.

The rapid urbanization of the society has changed the lifestyle of the people and, in turn, has increased the prevalence of health measures over a broad aspect, thus, augmenting the demand for the product. The limitation of the coconut sugar is that if it is consumed in excess, then added sugars might cause some problems like obesity, diabetes, metabolic syndrome, and heart disease, which along with a higher price of the product as compared to traditional sugar may retrain demand for coconut sugar.
