If I can inspire just one person to believe in themselves and believe that anything is possible, that it is worth every effort to catch that dream, I have reached the higher purpose I strive for.”

JOLAr

Each of the four artworks in the collection tells its own visual story and this mind digging style is something you can see in almost all his work. The flow, the colors, the mood and the deeper purpose is always present in Jockes art.

When purchasing an NFT in the collection you will get access to a print file which enables you to print the artwork, frame it and hang it in your home. All the artworks found in "Dreamcatcher" are created on a one of a kind basis - just like any traditional painting.

Digital art is on the rise but something that represent Jockes style is that he includes some raw feeling just like if the paintings should have been done with traditional tools like brushes on a canvas using oil paint for instance. That natural look is what makes his art more unique in a way and collectors looking for something inspired by traditional art will definitely like this collection among the other artworks presented on his website and the NFT platforms where he is represented.

This particular collection is only available at the OpenSea NFT marketplace and the current price is 0.1 ETH for each artwork.

Hopefully the creator of this collection will reach his goal of inspiring people to go after what they dream about no matter what anyone else thinks or might say. Now that is a deeper purpose worth its name!
