EINPresswire.com/ -- The global DOCSIS And Cable Modems Market is expected to reach USD 9.57 Billion by 2028, according to a new report by

Reports and Data. Data over Cable Service Interface Specification (DOCSIS) is an international telecommunications standard that allows the addition of high-bandwidth data transfer to an existing cable television (CATV) system. Many cable television providers use it to provide internet access over their HFC infrastructure.

Increase in the application of IoT and rise in the telecom sector along with deployment of Televisions and online platform like Amazon Prime and Netflix, is setting the pace of growth in this market. As time marches on with advancement in technology, DOCSIS will continue to evolve to accommodate new services from user's worldwide.

North America holds the largest market share of the market. Growth in this region is mainly due to rising demand of high speed internet and OTT services. APAC region will witness a highest market share of 21%. Surge in the market of DOCSIS in APAC is mainly due to the rising demand in China. Rise in e-governance and ecommerce has spurred the growth of the market due to the rise in funding by the government to promote telecommunication industry in the region.
