The Joint LJC/LSBA Summer School: "Variations on a Theme: Rhythms of the Profession" will focus on the latest updates in civil law, criminal law, family law, and other specialties helping attendees to learn innovative practice information and fresh trends.

"My clients are outwardly successful and want more fulfillment in their actions and who they are in the world. They are professionals and business owners who want to break free of the hamster wheel and be more successful while spending more time with their families and communities, in the art studio, or traveling for pleasure. From day one, we dig deep to connect with life's purpose, design a plan for living, and implement it together as partners. Relationships get stronger, clients and customers are happier, stay longer, buy more, and speak of you and your work with praise," Naef says.

“ No matter your experience level, you will learn innovative new practice information at the LJC/LSBA Joint Summer School.” Daya Naef

An attorney and mediator for nearly two decades, Naef graduated in 2019 from Accomplishment Coaching's strenuous program in Washington, DC. She is also an Associate Certified Coach (ACC) with the International Coaching Federation (ICF).
