Delilah Home WINS Best Bedding Award from Eco Excellence!

For the past 13 years the Eco-Excellence Awards™ only intention has been to scout, give voice and recognize companies who make a world a better place. Last year, over 500 products were reviewed, 1 Million + unique visitors, and over 364,000 fans voted for the excellences in social and environmental sustainability for products, services, companies and websites. Manufacturers and organizations involved in the production and/or commercialization of sustainable and socially responsible products are eligible to submit their entries for review.

"We take tremendous pride in producing the best GOTS certified organic products. Not only are our products good for the planet, but they are also good for people, and good for business." Twer, who is the Chairman for the Organic Trade Association Fiber Council, adds, "the organic textile category has grown double digits in the last decade. It now represents more than $2 billion dollars in organic home textiles. We see this trend continuing for the next decade with transparency, traceability, and accountability being the driving factors."

Delilah Home manufactures a wide range of plush 100% organic cotton bath, kitchen and beach towels, certified to the strict GOTS standard, that absorb water easily and have a pile that is luxurious to the touch. They are available in sizes ranging from face towels to extra-large beach towels.
