

Aptys Solutions Propels Ahead: Attains Additional FedNow® Service Certification

Aptys Unleashes Send Capabilities with High System Availability and Interoperability Support

PLANO, TX, UNITED STATES, November 16, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Aptys Solutions, a leading provider of cloud-based digital payment solutions for over 5,500 financial institutions, has extended its FedNow Service certification to include both Send and Receive capabilities. Aptys was a key participant in the preliminary stages of the FedNow pilot program this year, and this certification extension underscores the company's dedication to delivering market-leading end-to-end digital payments with seamless interoperability across payment rails including the FedNow Service, RTP/TCH, ACH, Wires, Check, and Mobile payments.

By expanding its FedNow Service capabilities to cover Receive, Send, and Funding Manager, Aptys is enabling financial institutions (FIs) to offer comprehensive real-time payments. Furthermore, Aptys' open, RESTful APIs help FIs overcome their most significant challenge with 24/7/365 real-time payment availability. This is achieved by integrating any core account processing systems, online and mobile banking, as well as bill, loan, invoice, and picture payment systems. The result is a frictionless, end-to-end payments solution.

Built on Amazon Web Services (AWS) Cloud, Aptys' Instant Pay is one of the industry's most scalable, extensible, and flexible payment solutions. It offers FIs a path to deploy real-time payments easily, aggregate Send transactions from all sources, and establish a single point to simplify managing payments, processing, and supporting clients. Aptys' partnership with AWS further strengthens its commitment to secure and protected integration of the
