With increased competition and a multitude of challenges facing retailers, Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) systems have become indispensable for the retail industry to sustain and adapt to changing customer demands. Vietnam has emerged as one of the top and most attractive retail markets globally, boasting 800 supermarkets, 150 shopping malls, and over 9,000 traditional markets. The growth in Vietnam's retail industry, coupled with the necessity for enhanced business efficiencies and transparency among retailers, is driving the demand for ERP solutions in the market.

Moreover, the growing demand for role-based security and the expansion of the retail sector are significant contributors to the burgeoning Vietnam ERP for retailers market. However, challenges such as high investment costs and limited flexibility may impede its growth trajectory. Nevertheless, the surge in ERP adoption among small and medium retailers, along with the advent of cloud-based ERP solutions, presents substantial opportunities for market expansion in Vietnam during the forecast period.
