

Transforming Environmental Nutrient Credits: Verity One Ltd. and Zoniqx Partnership using Al and Blockchain

Verity One Ltd. partners with Zoniqx for ESG and environmental credits using Al and blockchain, enhancing transparency, efficiency, and sustainability.

WASHINGTON, DC, USA, July 17, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Verity One Ltd., a certification and validation data accumulation company, announces a strategic partnership with Zoniqx, a premier blockchain technology company. This collaboration aims to transform the environmental credits market by leveraging advanced blockchain solutions and the Verity One V token to enhance transparency, efficiency, and security.

"By leveraging our TALM platform and the Dynamic Compliant Interoperable Security Token Partnering with Zoniqx advances our mission to clean the world's water using AI and blockchain solutions for RWA remediation. This approach drives sustainable environmental and economic benefits."

(DyCIST) protocol, we aim to revolutionize the management and distribution of nutrient credits, ensuring a secure, transparent, and efficient system that benefits both the environment and the economy," stated Sanjeev Birari, CBO and Co-Founder of Zoniqx.

Operating under the ethos of 'TRUTH MATTERS™,' Verity
One Ltd. has been at the forefront of environmental innovation with its Nutrient Credit System. Developed over 23 years and backed by extensive regulatory approvals,
this system improves water quality by removing Nitrogen
(N) and Phosphorus (P). Integrating Zoniqx's independent Layer 1 asset management of Real World Assets (RWA) and Verity One's private Hyperledger technology will enhance the system's transparency and efficiency, turning nutrient credits into valuable assets on the blockchain.

Adam Reiser, CEO and Co-Founder of Verity One Ltd. stated, "Collaborating with Zoniqx marks a significant milestone in our mission to innovate the environmental credits market. Their expertise in blockchain technology aligns perfectly with our vision of leveraging AI, IoT, and ERP systems to create a more sustainable future."

Sanjeev Birari, Co-Founder & CBO of Zoniqx, also expressed their excitement: "We are thrilled to partner with Verity One Ltd. Their pioneering work in environmental credits is impressive, and we are eager to contribute our advanced Tokenized Asset Lifecycle Management (TALM) solutions for RWA tokenization. By leveraging our TALM platform and the Dynamic Compliant Interoperable Security Token (DyCIST) protocol, we aim to revolutionize the management and distribution of nutrient credits, ensuring a secure, transparent, and efficient system that benefits both the environment and the economy."

This partnership will drive significant advancements in ESG compliance trading Real World Assets and environmental credits, setting new sustainability and technological integration standards. Both companies are committed to delivering innovative solutions that address critical environmental challenges, paving the way for a cleaner, more sustainable future.
