At Quest Commonwealth, we're committed to ensuring that no matter the financial situation, we have the tools and expertise to meet our clients' unique needs and goals.”

Bill Revoir, Co-Owner Quest Commonwealth

Commonwealth, a leader in retirement planning, is expanding its advanced investment strategies to include option overlay strategies and collars. Building on its long-standing expertise in structured notes, buffered ETFs, and opportunity zone investments, this latest addition ensures the firm can address the unique needs of clients requiring more complex financial solutions.

While these advanced strategies are not suitable for most clients, Quest Commonwealth recognizes the importance of having experts on staff to handle specialized situations. For the majority of retirees, traditional approaches to retirement planning provide the security and growth they need. However, for those with unique financial circumstances, advanced tools like option overlays and collars offer targeted solutions for managing volatility and preserving wealth.

“Our focus has always been on tailoring strategies to fit each client's specific needs,” said Bill Revoir, co-owner of Quest Commonwealth. “For most of our clients, simpler, proven methods are the best fit. But when the need arises for advanced strategies, we're equipped to provide thoughtful, expert solutions that align with their goals.”

Through strong partnerships with Foundations Investment Advisors and SpiderRock, Quest Commonwealth provides clients with access to industry-leading experts in advanced market strategies. These collaborations enhance the firm's ability to offer sophisticated solutions, ensuring clients receive the highest level of expertise when navigating complex financial needs.

The new strategies complement the firm's existing offerings. Option overlay strategies help clients manage risk or enhance income by leveraging options to navigate market volatility. Collars, in particular, provide a structured way to protect against significant losses while maintaining some upside potential. These tools are particularly valuable for clients with significant equity holdings or complex financial goals.

For years, Quest Commonwealth has utilized structured notes, buffered ETFs, and opportunity zones to provide clients with innovative solutions. Expanding into option overlays and collars further enhances the firm's ability to serve clients with specialized needs, ensuring a comprehensive approach to retirement planning.

While these strategies can provide additional layers of protection or income opportunities, Quest Commonwealth reminds clients that all investments in the stock market carry inherent risks, including the potential for loss. The firm ensures that clients fully understand the complexities and risks involved in any strategy before implementing it.

One client reflected on the firm's expertise, saying, "Quest Commonwealth introduced me to strategies I didn't know existed. They explained everything clearly and only recommended what was truly right for my situation. Knowing they have advanced tools available, if needed, gives me confidence in their ability to manage my plan."

Education remains at the forefront of Quest Commonwealth's approach. Planners ensure that clients understand not only the potential benefits of these tools but also the risks and complexities involved. This commitment to transparency allows clients to make informed decisions and ensures that these strategies are only recommended when absolutely necessary.

"We pride ourselves on being prepared for any financial scenario," added Revoir. "Most retirees won't need advanced strategies like these, but having the expertise in-house—and through our strong partnerships—ensures we're ready to meet the needs of those who do."

As Quest Commonwealth continues to grow, the firm remains dedicated to offering the right solutions for every client, whether through traditional approaches or advanced strategies. The addition of option overlays and collars reflects the firm's ongoing commitment to delivering
