West Nashville Wrecker Service, located in Nashville and Clarksville, and Dad's Towing Service, located in Madison, have each been trusted names in the towing industry for over 20 years. Their teams of experienced professionals and state-of-the-art equipment have made them go-to choices for towing and recovery services in their areas.

With a combined fleet of 150 pieces of equipment, including rotators, power units, trailers, and specialized recovery tools, West Nashville Wrecker Service and Dad's Towing Service have built strong relationships with law enforcement, municipalities, and commercial clients. They are the only certified towing companies authorized to access the Nashville International Airport and have played a crucial role in supporting the city's rapid growth and infrastructure development. Their expertise extends to complex recoveries, including aircraft incidents and collapsed roadway recoveries—jobs that few others can handle.

Jim Mitchell, founder of Dad's Towing Service, shared his enthusiasm for the acquisition: "Since day one, my focus has been on growth, creating opportunities, and advancing education within the towing industry. I am incredibly proud of the training program we developed and the expertise we've built over the years. "West Nashville Wrecker Service and Dad's Towing Service exemplify the Guardian Fleet Services mentality of being the solution to our customers' needs," said Geoff Russell, CEO of Guardian Fleet Services. "Their reputation for reliability, quality service, and industry-leading education aligns perfectly with our mission. Their commitment to developing specialized training programs and continuously investing in their team's expertise makes them a natural fit for Guardian."

With this acquisition, Guardian Fleet Services reinforces its position as an industry leader, further expanding its network to provide unparalleled customer service and support throughout Tennessee, Kentucky, Georgia, Texas, Florida, and beyond.
